EDITORIAL COMMENT.

FLANIGAN FOR SENATOR.

That the Goldfield Republican convention will be unanimous in endorsing P. L. Flanigan as the party's candidate to succeed Francis G. Newlands in the United States senate there is no doubt. No man so gifted with all the qualities that make for leadership, no other man with a mightier host of friends throughout the state, no man more deserving of the honor, could be found at this time within the ranks of the Republican party in Nevada, says the Reno Gazette.

P. L. Flanigan is the national committeeman from this state. Four years ago in a similar capacity he devoted himself to the cause of the Republican ticket, and in no small degree did he contribute to that magnificent majority that was rolled up for the Republicans all down the line. He has been a worker in the ranks and he has been tried in those positions where patience and ability are needed. And not once has he been found wanting.

That Senator Newlands will be beaten this year if P. L. Flanigan is endorsed by the Goldfield convention there is no doubt.

Senator Newlands goes before the people weaker than at any other time in his history. To a vast majority of the people in the state he is but a name, an alien. He will be the nominee of a divided party, a party filled with bitter internal fights. He is weaker with his own party than he has ever been.

P. L. Flanigan is a Nevadan. He knows its long gray stretches. He has fought his way upward inch by inch, and made his impress upon the history of this state. He has been Nevada's great optimist when it was much more difficult to be an optimist than it has in the last four or five surging, tremendous years. He has always been a builder.

With clean hands and a record unstained P. L. Flanigan will go before the people of Nevada. With him will go Senator George S. Nixon, who will lend his gallant aid to the party through thick and thin; with him will go Hugh Brown of Tonopah, who will be a wonderful addition to the supreme court of Nevada; with him will go J. F. Douglas, who will most excellently serve Nevada in the lower branch of congress.

That is going to be the ticket, Republicans of Nevada, upon which we are going to pin our faith and our pride in the next three months. It is a ticket worth fighting for, and there will be no faltering in the ranks with leaders such as those.

Mina now has the luxury of the state police. We don't know to what or whom we are indebted for the doubtful honor for the town is so d-n quiet that a dog fight is a luxury. It seems the Democratic powers that be are bound to make a Republican county out of Esmeralda. They will succeed, alright.—Western Nevada Miner.

GOMPERS TRIES TO DELIVER VOTE

DENVER, Aug. 14.—The Colorado Federation of Labor in convention here today by a viva voce vote endorsed the Democratic party in the national campaign. The endorsement was given when a long communication from President Samuel Gompers and members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, in which the Republican party was declared to have "insulted" labor and the Democratic party to have given the laboring men practically all that was asked of it, and calling upon laboring men generally to support the party which had favored them, was placed before the convention, and on motion of P. J. Devault of Denver, was "received and concurred in."

The convention was thrown into turmoil when some of the delegates charged that the convention had been "jobbed" and the federation pledged to support the Democratic party contrary to the wish of many members, but efforts to secure a reconsideration of the action were unavailing.

MRS. WEBB FOUND GUILTY OF FRAUD

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Alice M. Webb, divorced wife of Brodie L. Duke, the millionaire tobacco manufacturer, was today found guilty of defrauding the Great Northern hotel by passing a worthless check. A motion for a new trial was made and will be argued later. If not granted sentence will be pronounced by the court.

At the word "guilty" the woman who a few years ago was mistress of millions flushed and trembled. She flew into a rage and cursed the jury, but soon recovered and was apparently perfectly composed while her lawyer made his motion for a new trial. The extreme penalty for the crime for which Mrs. Webb was found guilty is a fine of $2000 and imprisonment in the county jail for one year.

SHOSHONE MAKES USUAL SHIPMENT

Ten bricks, estimated at 12,000 ounces troy, were shipped Monday to the Selby smelter at Vallejo Junction by the Montgomery Shoshone Consolidated Mines company. The shipment represents the cleanup of the zinc boxes for July. Estimating the bullion at $3 an ounce, the shipment is worth about $36,000, which is somewhat higher than that of June. The bricks were shipped by Wells-Fargo express. In addition to the bullion, the company sent out the usual tonnage of concentrates. General Manager Kirchen states that the July output was about the same as June.—Rhyolite Herald.

START A BOOM FOR SCHURMAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Before the meeting of the Republican state committee, which was called to order by State Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff in the Republican club today, a boom was started for Jacob S. Schurman, president of Cornell university, for governor. Prominent Republicans who had informal conferences in the state headquarters before they went over to the club said that Woodruff, while in camp, received many letters from upstate recommending the university president. It now appears to be the plan of the state committee to leave the question of Hughes' candidacy open until the convention is called to order in Saratoga on Monday, September 14.

PURCHASES RICH RAWHIDE LEASE

F. S. Gordon, general manager of the Rawhide Gold Reef Mining company, has purchased the control of the Sill lease on block two of the Queen Bethania claim. For the past five months Mr. Gordon, who is a well known mining engineer, has been quietly investigating every part of the district with the intent to purchase the best looking lease that would stand the test of close investigation. The company that he represents and of which he is a heavily interested partner is going ahead with the development of the Reef estate, which was favorably reported on by Algeron Del Mar, the English expert, who has also passed on the block of ground that is covered by the Sill lease. Every inch of the Sill lease has been thoroughly prospected by the owner; there is not a foot that has been overlooked. It was on this piece of ground that sensational glory holes have been unloaded, and sacks of ore that have been sold after panning down have given the men who found them returns at the rate of $10 to $15 per pound in the honeycombed quartz that packs the values in this locality.

Mr. Gordon will start today and will rush the work of sinking with two shafts to the 100-foot at the intersection of the two big fissure veins that intersect in the center of the lease, and which has high grade shipping values at the bottom of the fourteen-foot hole right now. The lease has been virtually idle for the reason of the sickness of the owners, and nothing in the way of deep work has been attempted.

The Rawhide Gold Reef is a big outfit and they will go ahead with this property and will go to the 400 as is called for by the arrangement that has already been made. This block of ground has the best surface showings of anything in the entire district and is conceded by the best mining men of the district to be destined a big mine, and a rich one.

In less than thirty days there will be a plant of machinery on this lease and there will be a force of miners at work within keeping of the plans of development that have already been made, and this is the kind of an outfit that does things and with little talk. It is a safe prediction that this property will be one of the premier shippers of the many high grade money makers of the camp. This lease will be incorporated as part of the Gold Reef company, and there are dividends in sight for this combination of capitalists, who have made a close corporation of their big holdings.—Rawhide Rustler.

COLONEL WITHOUT READY CASH GONE

GUEST OF ST. FRANCIS USES POOR CHECKS TO HAVE GOOD TIME.

Another guest is missing from the St. Francis, and this one is wanted by credulous business men who took his checks in good faith, says the San Francisco Chronicle.

He arrived at the hotel last Monday and registered "J. A. McKenzie, Nevada." There is a J. H. McKenzie, superintendent of the Goldfield Consolidated, so the name helped some. But certain Nevada men sized up this McKenzie and remarked afterward that he looked very much like a man named McPherson, who had done time at Carson for passing worthless checks.

This McKenzie of the St. Francis register had some money when he arrived. He called upon Dillon, a hatter, and bought a new hat, and by Dillon was directed to Heller's, where he paid $45 cash for a new ready-made suit. Then he went forth to celebrate. He happened in at Pratt and Becker's saloon resort, and there got cashed a check on Scott for $150, indorsed with the name Peterson, to which he affixed the further indorsement McKenzie. Then he spent freely, buying wine, and announced that he was a colonel in the United States army and that the 11th of August was the twenty-sixth anniversary of his entrance in the military service.

The new-christened colonel again called on Dillon and requested the loan of $20. Dillon asked for some security and was given a check on the First National Bank of Tonopah. Later Dillon received notice that there was no such bank. So he hurried to the Hotel St. Francis to try to meet the colonel. He found a big red auto in front of the hotel yesterday afternoon, and in it two serene ladies of careless society, whom the "colonel" had had out for a spin on the Ocean Beach. The "colonel" was in the hotel. The management declined to appear against him, as he owed the hotel but $11. So the hotel detectives took the "colonel" over to Pratt and Becker's, and they gave him a chance to scrape up the $150 of the bogus check from his alleged numerous friends about town. The saloon men, mindful of how freely the "colonel" had spent most of their $150 right in their resort, disliking notoriety for their place, handed McKenzie $1 with which to get something to eat before reappearing after dinner with the $150. The saloon men are still waiting for their $150, and Dillon is trying yet to get the missing $20. The hotel's auto agent is also out $30 for the machine.

TURNING OUT THE BEST WORK

The bindery of the Bonanza is turning out the best work in the city, and it is giving such great satisfaction that anyone who has his work done there once, never goes anywhere else. The plant is the finest and most complete, not only in the State, but this side of San Francisco. We can turn out all kinds of work that is demanded in the offices of lawyers, brokers, promoters, mining companies, or for any other kind of business, and we guarantee satisfaction in every respect. One trial will be sufficient to establish the truth of this statement. It pays to go where only the best kind of work is done, and it pays to patronize home industry.

WATT MILL TURNS OUT BULLION

RAWHIDE, Aug. 11.—The Watt mill is finished and in operation. The machinery was put in motion Saturday, and while several days will be required to make all necessary adjustments, the first of next week will witness the mill reducing ore up to its capacity. Already there is a tonnage for several days' run at the plant.

The Watt plant is complete in every detail required for saving the values in the free; if it be found that the cyanide or some other process is adapted to extracting the values in the tailings an additional plant will be added. Messrs. Watt and Bradford propose to equip the mill with every facility that will procure a higher percentage of extraction.

There are several new features embodied in the mechanical part of the plant. Taking the best known mills of the day several improvements have been made that are intended to facilitate ore reduction. The mill is built somewhat on the order of the Hathaway. It is possible to grind the ore to a 120-mesh if desired. The process of extraction does not differ greatly from other successful milling plants.

The present capacity of the mill is approximately forty tons daily. It is the purpose of the management to increase this capacity to at least 100 tons, and probably 200 tons, daily at an early date. At present there has been shipped to the mill thirty tons from the Kearns No. 1, ten tons from the Owl No. 1, two carloads from the Trullitt, and several other consignments close to 100 tons. The results of the first mill run will be awaited with more than considerable interest.

PRESIDENT ELIOT ON SOCIALISM

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—President Eliot of Harvard, in an interview here, gives his views on socialism. He says:

"Socialism has not a chance in this country because wealth is too diffuse. If a man has $100 all his own he loses all idea of sharing it with anybody else. American people are opportunists; they will adopt institutions, socialistic or not, if they are practical, but they will not follow an idea beyond the stage where it becomes inefficient.

"Human society is based on self interest—shaded and concealed, perhaps. To have socialistic society, where every one thought first of the rest of the world, you would have to change not society, but humanity. When anyone says that the college is becoming the recruiting ground for socialism he is wrong."

This is the first time that President Eliot's ideas on this subject have ever been given out for publication, and this is his answer to the recent article on American "trouble makers."

AT THE MILLINER'S.

"Yes, I like the hat immensely, but I'm afraid my husband won't care for it."

"But such a love of a hat, madame!"

"Yes, I know. Oh, will you put it aside until tomorrow and I'll bring my husband in?"

"Impossible, madame; you had better take it now. It is much easier to get another husband than another hat like this one!"—Woman's Home Companion.

HOLY ROLLER SMITES A JUDGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—There was an exciting scene in the corridor of the New Bedford avenue police court in Brooklyn today when Howard Dunwiddy, a disciple of the Holy Rollers, a religious sect, attacked Magistrate Higginbotham, before whom twenty-five men and seven women members of the order had been arraigned charged with disorderly conduct.

The blow was a light one, and Magistrate Higginbotham retaliated by striking Dunwiddy squarely on the jaw. The Holy Roller staggered and fell. Magistrate Higginbotham held the prisoner in $1500 bail on a charge of assault.

When the Holy Rollers were arraigned Miss Elizabeth Robinson, high priestess of the order, was accused by the magistrate of having circulated a report in the courtroom that he attempted to hug and kiss her, while she was holding a private audience with him in his chambers. Magistrate Higginbotham demanded that the prisoner explain her statement. On advice of her lawyer, Miss Robinson refused to comply, so the magistrate held her in $5000 bail on a charge of contempt of court, and $1500 bail on a charge of conducting a disorderly house.
